

the first graphics magazine

Font magazine was created in 1991. It leads you into the world of graphics, advertising, prepress and polygraphics on 68 color chalk paper pages. Font is intended for graphic designers, photographers, advertising and marketing agency workers but also for production and prepress studios, printers and publishers. Font magazine regularly publishes interviews with prominent graphic designers, photographers or other artists, introduces established advertising agencies, graphic or photographic studios. Extensive material is always dedicated to corporate identity of major companies in a given field, including the evaluation of their logotypes. Font magazine brings the information about various graphic and advertising contests: Zlatá pecka (Golden stone), Nejkrásnější kniha (The most Beautiful book), Nejlepší výroční zpráva (The best Annual report) etc. Font magazine systematically publishes extracts of typefaces of home and world production. Crucial part of the magazine are sections dedicated to hardware and software. Font magazine regularly publishes tests of various hardware appliances and peripherals – monitors, digital cameras, tablets, printers or scanners etc. Popular parts of the magazine are reviews of programs for graphics and webdesign, including the Step-by-Step (Krok za krokem) guide (cookbooks of various computer graphics procedures and tricks) and interviews with Czech webdesigners. The magazine monitors current trends of picture and text processing and news in the field of printing technologies and signmaking.

Integral part of Font magazine are profiles of companies offering services in the field of prepress, offset, digital printing and digital photography. Popular, according to the readers, is feature In short (Ve zkratce) with up-to-date information and news from art and technical world.

Magazine covers show original, interesting and non-standard printing technologies and special papers (holography, six-colored or metallic print, laser and conventional cutting, impression, termogravure, customized print, scented colors, hand litography, etc.).

The results of readers survey (in cooperation with University of Economics)
